

Stock Manager

You have a Warehouse filled with stock and you require a more frequent check on stock levels than your current annual Stock Take... Bridge Stock Manager simplifies and automates day to day stock management. Using real time capabilities Stock Transfers, Stock Movements, Stock Takes, Picking and Goods In can be observed as they occur. Bridge Stock Manager sets a new standard for Warehouse Operations Management.

Order Stock Manager: to Bridge your stock control with real time updates for better Warehouse Management.

Available for Pick

Stock Manager enables you to view all stock items and their relevant information from one user friendly database. With customisable search fields and interface it has never been easier to keep track over every item in your warehouse. Knowing what is available to pick will allow you to keep controlled levels of stock in your warehouse without the issue of levels reaching zero.

Awaiting Despatch

Once orders have been picked and are awaiting despatch they can be viewed from a separate screen within Warehouse Manager which allows you to review or edit an order before it leaves the warehouse. This gives the opportunity to change an order or simply oversee how many orders are due to leave the warehouse in any given day. This page can be used to identify productivity levels in a day, week, month or year.

In Pick

When orders are being picked, Stock Manager will show in real time which items of stock have been taken off the shelf. It is also possible to trace the picked item to a specific member of staff. This will help with traceability and will also help you to identify your most efficient members of staff.

Held

In some circumstances orders might have to be held back in the warehouse for a longer period of time than expected. Stock Manager lists these held orders in a table of their own. This prevents the risk of the order being sent, having been mistaken for an order awaiting despatch. It allows you to identify more easily the progress of these accounts.
